Tour Duration: 26 days

OVERVIEW

Jewels of the Mediterranean is a magnificent 27-day journey to Malta and some of the less-visited Mediterranean islands – Sicily, Sardinia and Corsica. Steeped in history, these islands are home to ancient Greek and Roman sites, rugged limestone cliffs and caves, volcanic landscapes, forests and mountains, and some of the most spectacular coastlines of the Mediterranean.

Beginning in magnificent Malta, our four-day stay will reveal the secrets of the island's ancient past that have helped shape the Mediterranean 'jewel' we know today. We then cross by ferry to Sicily, where our first stop is the mountain town of Taormina with its ancient Greco-Roman amphitheatre from where we have extraordinary views of one of the world's most active volcanoes, Mount Etna. On Sicily's south we visit what was once one of the greatest cities of the Mediterranean world – Agrigento. The location and exceptionally well-preserved temples that date back to the 6th century BC are simply breathtaking. Next stop is the island of Sardinia, with its wild interior where ancient bronze-age towers and settlements – nuraghi – can be found. We travel the whole length of the island before making the small hop to Corsica and the medieval cliff-top town of Bonifacio. Wonderfully enigmatic, Corsica has an astounding mix of rugged cliffs, mountains, forests, half-moon bays and ancient villages. Finally, we farewell the 'Jewels of the Mediterranean' and take our final ferry journey to mainland France and the city of Nice.

At the heart of Palermo is a cluster of imposing churches and buildings that surround the ornate Fontana Pretoria. This huge fountain fills the piazza with its tiered basins and sculptures. The city bought the fountain in 1573 and local churchgoers dubbed it the Fountain of Shame, due to the flagrant nudity of the provocative nymphs!

Today we commence the short journey to Monreale. The Cathedral façade is impressive but gives few hints as to the magnificence that lies inside. It was built between 1174 and 1185 by William II, the Norman ruler of Sicily, who wished to showcase the magnificence of his kingdom. The project employed both Sicilian and Byzantine craftsmen, resulting in a magnificent fusion of eastern and western influences.

We continue into the Sardinian heartland to the town of Orgosolo, where the mountains are covered in beautiful forests and wild boar roam freely. We also visit the wonderful and rugged Capo Caccia which is situated on the southern point of a huge limestone triangle that juts out into the sea. There are impressive 300m high cliffs on its west side, but it is the underground labyrinth of mysterious caves for which Capo Caccia is most renowned. We take a boat to one of the most famous caves, Grotta di Nettuno, which is 2,500 metres long. Capo Caccia is one of the wildest and most beautiful places in Sardinia.

27/05/2019 Ajaccio – Gulf of Porto – Ajaccio (BLD)

In an island of such extraordinary natural beauty as Corsica, it is difficult to suggest one area which contains the most sublime scenery on the island. Yet the Gulf of Porto lays claim to this title. Here stacked slabs of red granite, towering pinnacles and gnarled, claw-like outcrops of rock were formed by volcanic eruptions 250 million years ago and subsequent erosion has fashioned spectacular shapes in the rock. The colours are remarkable and vary from charcoal-grey to incandescent reds and rusty purples which strike a vivid contrast with the deep green maquis and the cobalt- blue sea. The headland and its surrounding waters were declared a nature reserve in 1975 and dolphins and seals thrive here.

28/05/2019 Ajaccio – Bastia (BLD)

Our drive today takes us through some of the most breathtaking scenery on the island. After leaving Ajaccio we arrive in Corte and enjoy a tour of the town before continuing on to Bastia. En-route we see lush forests, plunging gorges and the amazing Vecchio Viaduct.
